PARAGRAPH 1. TERMS AND DEFINITIONS.

1.1. VOLVE VISION is an ecosystem, a software-hardware complex that provides electronic data exchange, consisting of components such as websites (with domain names including but not limited to volve.vision), mobile applications, mobile and PC platforms, client applications, seasonpass software, any other software developed to provide VOLVE VISION Services or to use VOLVE VISION Services, as well as technical means, including but not limited to server-side, cameras and/or video surveillance systems, which are also integral components of the ecosystem.

1.2. Participants in the VOLVE VISION ecosystem (hereinafter referred to as "Participants") are operators, holders, users, as well as any individuals (both physical and legal, governmental and non-governmental organizations, associations of persons, etc.) who use the Services in one way or another.

1.3. The VOLVE VISION account (hereinafter referred to as "Account") is the main virtual account, which includes the main account expressed in the BNB digital currency, as well as a sub-account expressed in the VV digital currency, which is opened for holders and users to use the Services, conduct transactions, account for information, and serves as the main means for implementing the rights and obligations of the Participants mentioned above.

1.4. VOLVE VISION operators (hereinafter referred to as "Operators") are all individuals, groups of individuals who manage VOLVE VISION, including but not limited to legal entities (including LLC "VOLVI VISION", created and registered under the legislation of Ukraine, assigned an identification code of 44828407), non-corporate organizations and teams, involved specialists and subcontractors who provide Services.

1.5. VOLVE VISION Services (hereinafter referred to as "Services") are any opportunities realized by Participants that were provided to them by VOLVE VISION, including via the Internet and/or blockchain technology, provided through websites (with domain names including but not limited to volve.vision), mobile applications, mobile and PC platforms, client applications, seasonpass software, any other software (including those that will be available later as a result of the development of VOLVE VISION and technological progress), without limiting any components of the VOLVE VISION ecosystem. Services also include all related services, subcontracting work, etc., related to the installation, configuration, service or any other maintenance of technical means used in the VOLVE VISION ecosystem, including but not limited to server-side, cameras and/or video surveillance systems.

At the same time, Participants understand that the Services are not traditional video surveillance services with simultaneous security provision, not intended for responding to force majeure situations in online mode. There are significant differences between Services and traditional video surveillance services with simultaneous security provision, some of which, but not all, are described in this document.

1.6. Holders are Participants who have fulfilled the conditions for joining the VOLVE VISION ecosystem and transmit video streams, including through seasonpass software, and exercise their rights and obligations.

1.7. Users are Participants who have created and fulfilled the conditions for activating a user Account.

1.8. SEASONPASS is a virtual asset, a digital pass that allows connecting your own camera/video surveillance system, compatible with VOLVE VISION software, to the VOLVE VISION ecosystem and broadcasting video streams in exchange for VV tokens.

1.9. VV token (or VV for short) is a cryptocurrency with limited emission created on the basis of the Binance Smart Chain blockchain platform, in accordance with the BEP20 standard, which is issued and managed in a decentralized form.

1.10. VOLVE VISION software is software distributed by VOLVE VISION that enables the use of Services, including, among other things, new, improved, and corrected versions of such software.

PARAGRAPH 2.

SUBJECT AND GENERAL PROVISIONS.

2.1. These Rules, by their legal nature, constitute a contract between VOLVE VISION on the one hand, and the Participant on the other. The Rules are binding for all parties to the extent that they apply to the party. Pursuant to the Rules, VOLVE VISION provides Services, and Participants use the Services within the scope of their rights and obligations.

2.2. Any actions described in the Preamble, as a result of which the Participant agrees to the Rules, are a legal act aimed at creating contractual relations between VOLVE VISION on the one hand, and the Participant on the other.

2.3. Participants understand that the VOLVE VISION project is created at the intersection of video surveillance and digital technologies, blockchain, and cryptocurrency technologies. Therefore, due to the rapid pace of their development, the Rules may not cover all possible rights and obligations of each party, may be subsequently supplemented or amended by VOLVE VISION unilaterally without separate notice to Participants.

2.4. Given that the Rules are an open and publicly available document, Participants are required to familiarize themselves with the content of the Rules before each use of the Services. If the Participant continues to use the Services after the publication of amended and/or supplemented text of the Rules, it means that the Participant agrees to comply with the Rules with all changes and/or additions.

2.5. When providing new types of Services or functionality, VOLVE VISION reserves the right not to make certain changes and/or additions to the Rules, but to regulate the relationship additionally with special legal documents, links to which will be provided directly before granting Participants access to such Services or functionality.

2.6. Participants accept the jurisdiction restrictions, namely, understand and accept the fact that they have the right to use the Services in any country, provided that it does not contradict the laws of that country. By accepting these Rules, the Participant confirms that the use of the Services on the territory of the country of the Participant's residence is permitted by law. Moreover, if the Participant resides in a jurisdiction that imposes age or other restrictions on the use of internet applications or the conclusion of contracts that have legal force, such as the Rules, and the Participant is subject to such jurisdiction, he/she is not entitled to conclude this Agreement and use the Services.

2.7. By entering into the agreement and using the Services, each Participant guarantees that they are not subject to any economic sanctions or restrictions, and they are not included in any lists of economic sanctions. VOLVE VISION reserves the right to restrict or refuse to provide Services to Participants who are subject to economic sanctions or listed on economic sanctions lists.

2.8. In the event that a Participant, in violation of jurisdictional limitations or any other restrictions regarding age, sanctions or other restrictions, still enters into the agreement and uses the Services, such action is considered void and has no legal effect, except for those related to its voidness. VOLVE VISION assumes no responsibility towards the Participant who commits such violations, or towards third parties for any violations committed by the Participant. Furthermore, Participants acknowledge and declare that the funds used by them within the framework of using the Services are derived from legitimate sources and not from illegal activities.

2.9. VOLVE VISION aims to provide Services with minimal interruptions. However, VOLVE VISION cannot guarantee the continuous provision of uninterrupted, timely and error-free Services. Participants understand that since the technology operates on the basis of blockchain and internet technologies, as well as streaming video, there is a possibility of power supply interruptions or network disruptions that may result in interruptions in the use of the Services, such as delays and distortion due to partial loss of transmitted data. Moreover, Participants understand that the transmitted data is not encrypted, and law enforcement agencies of the respective jurisdictions, in accordance with the established legislation, may have access to such data. VOLVE VISION is not responsible for any interruptions, delays, eavesdropping, and other defects in the operation of the Services.

2.10. Participants also accept full responsibility for the content of the information and data that they transmit or view, even if they may receive information of an offensive, indecent, or other undesirable nature or harmful to children. VOLVE VISION is not responsible for the content of information and data that are transmitted or processed.

PARAGRAPH 3.

PARTICIPANTS. PARTICIPANTS' ACCOUNTS.

3.1. Participants can register in the VOLVE VISION ecosystem as holders and/or users.

3.2. All Participants must submit an application to create a VOLVE VISION account before using the Services. The account creation process involves registering in the VOLVE VISION ecosystem using a mobile phone number.

3.3. Additionally, holders must undergo additional identification by providing information about themselves (personal data) if required during registration as a holder, with subsequent verification. In the event that the information about the Participant changes, they are obligated to update such information immediately.

3.4. Each Participant can have only one primary account - one type of account at any given time. However, each Participant may have several sub-accounts under the primary account.

3.5. The functionality of accounts differs between holders and users, with holders having the ability to stream video content, including using the seasonpass software.

3.6. Accounts can only be used by the Participants who registered them. In the event that a third party uses an account, VOLVE VISION reserves the right to suspend, freeze, or cancel the use of such accounts. If a Participant suspects or knows of any unauthorized use of their account, they are required to immediately inform VOLVE VISION. VOLVE VISION is not liable for any damages or expenses that may arise as a result of the use of a Participant's account by any third party.

3.7. Each Participant, when registering an account, takes measures within the proposed security framework to protect their account and the property associated with it. In turn, VOLVE VISION creates the most favorable conditions for Participants to protect their data, while warning them that certain actions may pose risks that could lead to the loss of their account. In particular, Participants must treat their account access data (login and password, access codes, identifier passwords, information to access their email and mobile number in the case of two-factor authentication, etc.) as confidential information that cannot be disclosed to any third party, including VOLVE VISION. Additionally, VOLVE VISION is not responsible for any losses or consequences resulting from authorized or unauthorized use of your account access data, including but not limited to information disclosure, publication, consent, or provision of various rules and agreements by clicking on a website, updating online agreements, and so on. Participants agree to assume full responsibility for taking the necessary security measures to protect their accounts and the information required to access their accounts.

3.8. Participants are free to make any decisions that may affect the volume and value of their property identified through their account. Participants independently decide on the sale, purchase, exchange, donation, transfer, or any other transactions that may be made with their property identified through their account, as well as decisions related to the use of VV tokens. Each Participant is also fully responsible for any transactions or other actions they take within the mechanics of their account. VOLVE VISION is not responsible for any possible consequences resulting from such actions and transactions.
